Agreement.

Memorandum of Agreement made this 8th day of November between the Kanungopara Education Society (registered under the Societies Registration Act XXI of 1860) and having its registered office at Kanungopara, P.S. Boalkhali in the district of Chittagong (hereinafter called the Society) of the one part and the Governor of the Province of Bengal (hereinafter called the Governor) of the other part.

Whereas for the purpose of the construction of buildings and playgrounds, for the extension of the institutions of the Kanungopara Education Society, viz., the H. E. Boalkhali, in the district of Chittagong, and more particularly described in the schedule hereto and delineated in the plan* hereunto annexed.

And whereas the said Government of Bengal, being satisfied by an enquiry held under section 40 of the said Act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Society the plots of land hereinbefore described.

And whereas the said Government of Bengal has required the Society under the provisions of section 41 of the abovementioned Act to enter into the agreement with the Governor hereinafter contained. Now this Indenture witnesseth that it is hereby agreed and declared as follows:—

1. On demand the Society shall and will pay to the said Government of Bengal all and every compensation in respect of the said land tendered, paid, or awarded, or to be tendered, paid, or awarded by the Collector under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or by the Court to which a reference under Part III of the said Act may be made, or by the Court or Courts to which an appeal from the award of the said Court may be preferred and all costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings in the aforesaid Courts, or otherwise incidental to the proposed acquisition or payable in respect thereof under the provisions of the said Act.

3. On payment by the Society of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or, in the discretion of the said Government of Bengal (on deposit by the Society of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause), but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the abovementioned Act, the Governor shall make over possession of the said land to the Society and shall execute and do all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Society.

5. The said extension work shall be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within two years from the date on which possession of the said land shall have been given to the Society.

6. Should the said extension work not be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within the period stated in the last preceding clause or within such further period as in its discretion may be prescribed or allowed by the said Government of Bengal or should the said land at any time thereafter cease for a period of twelve consecutive months, to be held and used or ceased to be required for the purpose or purposes provided in the foregoing fourth clause then and in any such case, the said Government may summarily re-enter upon and take possession of the said land together with all buildings thereon, whether such buildings were erected before or after transfer of the land to the Society, and thereupon the interest of the Society in the said lands and buildings shall absolutely cease and determine.

*Not printed but may be inspected in the office of the Collector of Chittagong.

7. On taking such possession the said Government may sell or otherwise deal with the said land and buildings as it may think proper.

(i) Should the said Government sell the land with the buildings the said Government after deducting the expenses incurred in connection with the said taking of possession and with such sale, shall pay the proceeds to the Society.

(ii) Should the said Government decide not to sell the land and buildings, the said Government shall retain the said land and buildings thereon in which case the Governor shall repay to the Society the market value as on the day of re-entry of all the buildings erected by the Society and all sums received from the Society in respect of all and every compensation as provided in the foregoing first clause (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption), but will not repay any sums paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

(iii) Should the said Government decide to sell the buildings only, upon such sale the Governor shall after deducting the expenses of taking possession and selling, pay the balance of the proceeds of sale to the Society, together with the sum received from the Society in respect of the compensation for the land (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received from the Society on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption), but will not repay any sum paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

8. The public shall be entitled to use the said buildings and lands for physical and mental training subject to the Rules and Regulations of the institutions of the Kanungopara Education Society.

9. Should any dispute or difference arise touching or concerning the subject matter of this agreement or any covenant clause or thing herein contained the same shall be referred to the said Government of Bengal, and the opinion and decision of the said Government upon such dispute or difference shall be final and conclusive and binding on the parties hereto.

Jessore - Faridpur - Dacca - Tippera - Noakhali.—No. 20011L.A.—10th November 1945.—Whereas it appears to the Governor that land in the districts of Jessore, Faridpur, Dacca, Tippera and Noakhali is likely to be needed for public purposes, viz., for the construction of a road from Calcutta to Chittagong, notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern that in excercise of the powers conferred by section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, the Governor has authorised the engineers of the Works and Buildings Department for the time being engaged on this undertaking to enter upon and survey land, and do all other acts required for the proper execution of their work as provided for or specified in the said section.

The general route to be taken for the survey will be from the eastern bank of the river Bhairab on the crossing made by the Jessore-Narail Road and along this road up to the common border line of the villages Sultanpur and Hamidpur where it leaves the road and proceeding further straight meets it again at its junction with Taraganj-Salikha Road. From this point the alignment runs true north-east, passes through the villages Alaipur, Pukhuria, Dakshin Lakshmipur, Paikpara, Sadulyapur and running across the Taraganj-Salikha Road towards the northern extremity of the village Indra meets the road again Panchbaria about ¾ mile south of Salikha. At Salikha the alignment bears further west and crossing the river Chitra 2 miles west of the ferry-point on the Salikha-Nahata Road. Running straight for about 3½ miles the alignment bears west and running due west crosses the river Fatki about 400 feet north of the crossing on the Salikha-Nahata Road. At the boundary of the police-station Salikha the alignment turns slightly north after crossing the Salikha-Nahata Road and running through the villages South Simulia and Gangarampur for about 2 miles it turns further north and running through the village Bhangara and across the river Nabaganga ½ mile south of the ferry-point, it crosses the Benodepur-Singia Road ¼ mile south of its junction with the Salikha-Nahata Road. About 2,000 feet up the alignment turns further north, crosses the Nahata-Dhobaghata Road about ½ mile up, and proceeding ¾ mile more in this direction, the alignment turns east in the village Jhagardia, and then running through the villages Fulbari, Ganganandapur, Baruria, Gopalpur meets the Nahata-Dhobaghata Road again at Mahammadpur. Here the alignment bears slightly to the east and runs almost along the Nahata-Dhobaghata Road using the existing crossing over the river Madhumati. About ¾ mile from the river bank, the alignment bears further to the east and runs almost along the existing road crossing the river Barasia at the Jessore border in Kandakul.

Entering the district of Faridpur, the alignment crosses the Bengal and Assam Railway at railway station Ghoshpur and running along the Faridpur-Gobindapur for about 1¼ mile, it bears slightly to east at Mahisala and proceeding for 4 miles parallel to the existing road, it passes through the villages Dasturdia and Manohardia and meets the junction of the Madhukhali Road and the Faridpur-Gobindapur Road, where it turns north-west and reaching Paramanandapur after 2 miles. At this point the alignment bears almost north and reaches the northern boundary of the village Sadardi about ½ mile east of the river Chandana where it turns north-west again and proceeds up to the heart of the village Dhammasi. Here the alignment bears slightly to the north and runs straight to a point a little up the junction of the Rajbari-Kaidangu Road and the Banibaha-Baharpur Road where it keeps to the Rajbari-Kaidanga Road for about 2 miles at the end of which it leaves the existing road and passing through the villages Rainagar, Bhabanipur crosses the Bengal and Assam Railway very close to the railway station Rajbari and continuing in the same direction further for a little over ½ mile, the alignment turns right to the east and running almost parallel to the railway and through the villages Agmarai, Mohanpur meet the Lakshmikul-Panchuria Road about ½ mile north of the railway station Panchuria. It then bears a little to the north and runs for 2¼ miles to enter the village Daulatdia immediately after which the alignment turns south-east to run as far as Goalunda Ghat railway station.

The link between the districts Faridpur and Dacca will be established by a power ferry operating between the Goalunda Ghat steamer station in Faridpur and Aricha in Dacca. From Aricha to the village Nihanda the alignment follows the Dacca-Goalundo Road and then turning a little towards the south, it leaves the road and runs straight up to the village Bara Dhulandi. From this point it runs due east to meet the district board road again in the village Bara Joka. At Bara Joka the alignment turns further south and running almost parallel to the district board road meets it again near the north-eastern tip of the village Rathora where it follows the district board road across the river old Dhaleswari and up to a point in Singair 1¼ mile west of the steamer station, where the alignment leaves the existing road to continue in its original direction across a fyord (Khari) and within ½ mile east of it in the village Kahadia. There it turns slightly north and meets the Dacca-Goalundo Road again about ¾ mile east of the steamer station. From this point the alignment runs due east to reach the steamer station in the village Dhalla following the existing road for about 2 miles. Crossing the river Dhaleswari over to the village Nagarchar the alignment bears slightly south and proceeds across the river Turag to meet the existing district board road at Mirpur. Leaving the district board road at Mirpur, the alignment continues in its old direction for about 2 miles from the river Turag to turn almost due south at Baraka for the municipal limit of the Dacca town at Nutan Paltanerline following very nearly the existing district board road. In continuation of the Dacca-Goalundo Road, the alignment will continue along a municipal road through the town up to Lalbagh where it turns south-east and following the existing municipal road goes up to Sutrapur.

Then the alignment will commence from south of the town Comilla and will follow the Goody's Tank Road and then the Chittagong Trunk Road from Comilla to Chauddagram up to Durgapur east where leaving the road it will turn south-east, and passing through Barpara and Dhaniswar meet the Chittagong Trunk Road north of east Ballavpur. The alignment will then generally follow the existing road up to Manikpur, whence leaving the road and continuing in its direction, it will meet the road again at Babuchi. From Babuchi the alignment will follow the existing road up to Chauddagram. From Chaudagram the alignment will follow the Chittagong Trunk Road up to the end of Batisa where it leaves the road and proceeding straight meets the road south of Nankara Kismat whence it follows the existing road for about 1½ mile and leaving the road north of Dinatali it will continue in its old direction and meet the road again south of Atkora. From Atkora the alignment will follow the existing road passing through the village Duttasar at the border of the district Tippera up to the ferry at Char Kalidas on the southern border of the district of Noakhali.

The general width of the route to be taken for the survey will be one mile on either side of the centre-line as indicated above except for the length between Nutan Paltaner line and Sutrapur in the district of Dacca where the width will be two miles on either side of the alignment.

No. 1431L.—15th November, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Murshidabad Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

1. Under section 5 of the Murshidabad Act, 1891, all property belonging to the Murshidabad Estate must descend and be enjoyed for ever by the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad for the time being. The succession to the titles of the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad and Amir-ul-Omrah is governed by the custom of primogeniture. The daughters of the Nawab Bahadur and his younger sons have, therefore, no right to the Estate properties. The last Ministry in Bengal was satisfied that immediate legislation was necessary to provide for the maintenance of the daughters and younger sons of a deceased Nawab Bahadur and their children consistent with their family dignity. Accordingly, the Murshidabad Bill, 1944, was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Assembly and passed by it. The Bill was also passed by the Bengal Legislative Council with certain minor amendments, but no further progress could be made with it owing to the intervention of the Proclamation issued by the Governor under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935. The issue of the Proclamation has not affected the necessity for or urgency of the measure.

2. The object of the Murshidabad Act, 1945, is the same as the object of the aforesaid Bill and the operative provisions of the said Act are identical in form and substance with the parallel provisions of the said Bill as passed by the Bengal Legislative Council.

By order of the Governor,
E. B. H. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Provided that where the authorised person is the owner of the tank in actual possession thereof, no such payment of the rent determined by the Collector under this sub-section shall be necessary; but the amount of such rent shall be included in and form part of the costs incurred or likely to be incurred by the authorised person in carrying out the required improvements in the tank".

Insertion of new section 14A.

13. After section 14 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"14A. (1) Where the owner of a derelict tank is not the owner of any land adjoining such tank of which possession is taken under section 6A, or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B, the authorised person shall, at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed, pay to the person in possession of such land at the time of taking or retaking possession thereof such compensation as the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks fit, may determine. Such compensation shall not be less than the amount of the rent which the person so dispossessed is liable to pay in respect of the land and shall be deemed to be a full and complete satisfaction for all loss suffered by such person as a result of the interference with his possession.

Payment of compensation to persons having rights in lands adjoining a tank of which possession is taken under this Act.

(2) Where the owner of a derelict tank is also the owner of any land adjoining such tank of which possession is taken under section 6A, or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B, the authorised person shall—

(a) in the case where such land is in the actual possession of the owner thereof, pay at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed to such owner such rent as the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks fit, may determine:

Provided that where the authorised person is the owner of such land in actual possession thereof, no such payment of the rent determined by the Collector under this clause shall be necessary; but the amount of such rent shall be included in and form part of the costs incurred or likely to be incurred by the authorised person in carrying out the required improvements in the tank; and (b) in other cases, pay at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed to any person to whom such land has been leased out and who holds such land as lessee at the time such possession is taken or retaken and to every other person having at that time, on payment of any rent or charge, any right in such land, such compensation as the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks fit, may determine, and such compensation shall not be less than the amount of the rent or charge which the person to whom the compensation is paid continues to be liable to pay to the owner or the tenant of such land and shall be deemed to be a full and complete satisfaction for all loss suffered by every such person as a result of the interference with the exercise of his right".

Amendment of section 15.

14. Section 15 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and to the said section as so renumbered the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

Substitution of new sections for sections 16 and 17.

15. For sections 16 and 17 of the said Act, the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

"16. During the period of possession all rights to use the water of the tank for irrigation purposes shall vest in the authorised person and no person shall use the water of the tank for such purposes except with the permission of the authorised person.

Rights to use the water of the tank.

16A. (1) When the possession of any tank has been taken under section 5 or section 6 the Collector shall determine in the prescribed manner the maximum area of land to the limits of which irrigation from the said tank may practicably be extended (hereinafter referred to as the maximum irrigation area) and the Collector shall publish a notice in the prescribed form and manner defining the limits of the maximum irrigation area so determined.

Maximum irrigation area.

(2) Every person possessing agricultural land within the maximum irrigation area shall, subject to the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4), be liable to pay a fee annually during the period of possession to the authorised person at the rate fixed and in the manner provided under section 17 and such liability shall not cease either by reason of such person not using water for irrigation purposes from the tank to which the maximum irrigation area relates or by reason of permission to use such water being refused under sub-section (2) of section 16B.

(3) Any person concerned may, within thirty days of the date of the publishing of the notice referred to in sub-section (1), apply in the prescribed form and manner and on payment of the prescribed fee to the Collector for—

(a) including any land within the maximum irrigation area,

(b) excluding any land from the maximum irrigation area, and

(c) exempting any land or part of any land from liability to pay the fees referred to in sub-section (2) on the ground that such land cannot practicably be irrigated from the tank to which the maximum irrigation area relates, or cannot be benefited by such irrigation or that such land is not agricultural land, and the Collector after giving the applicant a reasonable opportunity of being heard may pass such order as to such inclusion, exclusion or exemption as he thinks fit.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (Amendment) Bill, 1945.

(4) The Collector may of his own motion at any time after the expiry of thirty days from the date of publishing of the notice referred to in sub-section (1), include within the maximum irrigation area any land which was not agricultural land at the time of publication of such notice but has subsequently been converted into agricultural land, or otherwise revise the limits of the maximum irrigation area or exempt any land or part of any land within such maximum irrigation area from liability to pay the fees referred to in sub-section (2) and the Collector shall modify the list referred to in sub-section (1) of section 16B accordingly:

Provided that before any order for such inclusion, revision or exemption is passed all persons concerned shall be given a reasonable opportunity of making any representation which they may like to make and the Collector shall consider such representation.

Preparation of list.

16B. (1) As soon as may be after the Collector has disposed of any applications made under sub-section (3) of section 16A he shall prepare a list in the prescribed form and manner of the persons who are liable to pay the fees referred to in sub-section (2) of that section and such list shall specify the amount of agricultural land within the maximum irrigation area in respect of which each such person is to pay such fee and the amount of such fee which such person is to pay annually to the authorised person.

(2) The Collector shall publish the list referred to in sub-section (1) and every modification of such list in the manner prescribed and shall, where the authorised person is not the Collector, forward a copy of such list and every modification of such list to the authorised person who shall permit every person whose name is entered in the list to use the water of the tank for the irrigation of the land of such person as long as the amount of the fee payable by such person is duly paid and not otherwise.

(3) If any dispute arises between persons entered in the list prepared under sub-section (1) as to any matter in respect of the use of water by such persons from the tank for the irrigation of their lands the authorised person shall decide the dispute and his decision, subject to the provisions of section 26, shall be final.

Payment and rate of fees.

17. (1) Every person whose name is included in the list referred to in sub-section (1) of section 16B or his successor in interest shall pay annually and in the prescribed manner and on the dates prescribed to the authorised person the fees fixed according to the provisions of this section.

(2) If the fees payable under sub-section (1) are not paid within fifteen days from the due date fixed for such payment, interest on the amount of the fees so outstanding shall be payable at the rate of six and one quarter per centum per annum calculated from the day on which such payment became due until the date on which the amount of the fees so outstanding is paid or recovered, as the case may be.

(3) Such Revenue Authority as may be appointed by the Provincial Government in this behalf shall fix, in respect of any tank of which possession is taken under this Act and for which the maximum irrigation area has been determined by the Collector, the rate or rates at which fees to be paid to the authorised person under sub-section (1) shall be calculated and different rates may be so fixed for classes of agricultural lands of different descriptions or having different advantages.

(4) The rate to be fixed under sub-section (3) for any class of agricultural land shall be such that—

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Experience of the working of the Bengal Tanks Improvement Act, 1939, which was enacted with a view to provide irrigation facilities in areas which suffer from insufficient rain or are frequently affected by drought, shows that it is almost impossible to recover water rates from tanks improved under the Act on a voluntary basis as provided under section 16(2) of the Act, and that it is essential that water rates should be made compulsory in order that the maximum benefit may result from the improvement of irrigation tanks where it has been taken up on a large scale in areas affected by drought. In order to achieve the object of the Act fully, it has also been found necessary to make provisions for: (1) empowering the Collector to modify the period of possession, subject to the maximum period of twenty years, in order that the cost incurred for improving a tank may be realised with interest within such period; (2) allowing the sole owner of a tank to improve it as an authorised person; (3) taking possession of any land adjoining a derelict tank that may be considered necessary for the purpose of carrying out improvements in the tank; (4) making only agricultural lands assessable to fees under the Act, and (5) barring the accrual of occupancy rights in respect of the lands adjoining a derelict tank or its banks that may be leased out by the authorised person under section 18 of the Act. Some other minor amendments in the Act have also been found necessary for clarifying certain ambiguities in its existing provisions and for ensuring its smooth administration.

THE BENGAL SLUM IMPROVEMENT ACT, 1945.

[Assent of the Governor-General was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th December, 1945.]

An Act to provide for the improvement of slum areas in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the improvement of slum areas in Bengal;

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945.

(2) It extends to Calcutta and to every area constituted a municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. Ben. Act XV of 1932.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may by notification appoint and for this purpose different dates may be appointed for different areas.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Calcutta" means Calcutta as defined in clause (11) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923; Ben. Act III of 1923.

(2) "hut" means any building, no substantial part of which, excluding the walls up to a height of eighteen inches above the floor or floor level, is constructed of masonry, concrete or ferro-concrete, cemented brickwork or metal, but includes any building constructed of corrugated iron sheets or sheets of iron of a thickness not greater than that of corrugated iron sheets;

(3) "local authority" includes the Board of Trustees for the improvement of Calcutta constituted under the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911; Ben. Act V of 1911.

(4) "notification" means a notification published in the Official Gazette;

(5) "owner" includes the person for the time being receiving the rent of any land or building or of any part of any land or building, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee or for any person or society or for any religious or charitable purpose, or as a receiver or who would so receive such rent if the land, building or part thereof were let to a tenant;

(6) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(7) "slum area" means any area declared as such by the Provincial Government by notification under section 3.

Declaration of slum area by notification.

3. (1) The Provincial Government may either of its own motion, or on the recommendation of a local authority, by notification, declare any area containing huts, or huts and other buildings, to be a slum area, if, in the opinion of the Provincial Government, the condition of such area is insanitary, or attended with the risk of disease to the persons residing within, or in the neighbourhood of, such area by reason of the manner in which the huts or huts and other buildings are constructed or crowded together or of want of drainage or sewerage or of impracticability of scavenging or from any other reason.

(2) Every notification issued under sub-section (1) shall specify the boundaries of the area declared to be a slum area.

Preparation of scheme and estimate by a local authority.

4. (1) When any area has been declared a slum area under section 3, the Provincial Government may, by order in writing, authorise any local authority within the jurisdiction of which such area is situated to prepare a scheme for the improvement of the slum area together with an estimate of the cost of execution of the scheme, and thereupon, notwithstanding anything in any other law, such local authority may prepare such a scheme and estimate.

(2) A scheme prepared under sub-section (1) for the improvement of a slum area shall make provision for the following matters, namely:—

(a) the construction of streets or passages within such area sufficient in number and of sufficient width to enable the proper scavenging of the slum area;

(b) the construction of drains and sewers in such manner as to render the slum area sanitary, and may make provision for the following matters, namely:—

(i) the partial or complete removal or demolition of any hut or other building in the slum area, or the alteration or reconstruction of any such hut or building;

(iii) the filling up of tanks, wells, ditches or trenches or low lands in the slum area and the construction of new tanks or the deepening or improvement of existing tanks in such area.

(3) If a local authority authorised under sub-section (1) to prepare a scheme and estimate for the improvement of a slum area does not take up and complete the preparation of such scheme and estimate within such time as the Provincial Government considers reasonable and sufficient in the circumstances, the Provincial Government may, after giving the local authority an opportunity to explain the delay, by order in writing direct such local authority to prepare such scheme and estimate within such period as may be specified in the order and thereupon, notwithstanding anything in any other law, such local authority shall take up and complete the preparation of such scheme and estimate within the period so specified.

Publication and approval of scheme and estimate.

5. (1) When a local authority has under section 4 prepared a scheme and estimate for the improvement of a slum area it shall cause the scheme and estimate to be published in the Official Gazette and at the office of such local authority together with a notice calling upon all persons interested in the scheme to submit any objections or suggestions which they may wish to submit with respect to such scheme and estimate to such local authority within a period of three weeks from the date of such publication in the Official Gazette and stating the place at which a plan showing the proposed improvements may be seen at reasonable hours.

(2) After the expiry of the period of three weeks specified in sub-section (1) the local authority shall consider the objections and suggestions, if any, received by it within such period and thereafter may make such modifications in the scheme or estimate as it may consider expedient or necessary and may thereupon approve the scheme and estimate with or without modification, as the case may be:

Provided that if the estimated cost of the scheme exceeds one lakh of rupees, or if the local authority proposes to take action under section 7 in respect of such scheme, the local authority shall submit the scheme or estimate with such modifications, if any, as it may consider necessary, to the Provincial Government for approval, and the Provincial Government may thereupon either approve the scheme and estimate as so submitted or approve them subject to such further modifications, if any, as the Provincial Government may think fit.

(3) A scheme and estimate so approved by the local authority or the Provincial Government, as the case may be, are hereinafter in this Act referred to as an approved scheme and an approved estimate, respectively.

Payment of cost of approved schemes.

6. (1) The actual cost incurred by a local authority in executing an approved scheme shall be borne by the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in respect of which the said scheme has been prepared and shall be realised from such owners by such local authority in the manner provided in this section.

(2) The estimated cost of the approved scheme shall be equitably apportioned between such owners by the local authority by which the scheme has been prepared in the manner determined by such local authority and the apportionment so made shall be final and shall not be enquired into or varied in any Court.

(3) As soon as may be after the apportionment referred to in sub-section (2) has been made by the local authority, such local authority shall cause to be published in the Official Gazette and at the office of such local authority a list of all such owners together with the amount of the cost payable by each such owner as determined in such apportionment by the said local authority and thereafter the amounts specified in the said list as payable by each owner shall be paid by such owner to the local authority within two months of the date of publication of the said list in the Official Gazette.

(4) The amount payable by the owners to the local authority under sub-section (3) in respect of any slum area shall, subject to the prior payment of the land-revenue, if any, due to the Provincial Government in respect of the land in such area, be a first charge on the land and other immovable property in such area.

(5) If the amount payable by any owner to the local authority under sub-section (3) is not paid within the time specified in that sub-section, such amount shall be recoverable from any or all of the said owners either as a public demand or by the attachment and collection in the prescribed manner of all rents and arrears of rents which any tenant on such land or in such immovable property is liable to pay to such owner or owners.

(6) If the amount payable by any owner to any local authority under sub-section (3) is realised in whole or in part from any other person under sub-section (5) such person shall be entitled to recover from the said owner the amount so paid by him.

(7) If the actual cost of executing an approved scheme exceeds the estimated cost of such scheme, the amount by which such actual cost exceeds such estimated cost shall be apportioned between the owners referred to in sub-section (1) in the manner provided in this section for the apportionment of such estimated cost and the provisions of sub-sections (2) to (6) shall apply to the apportionment of such amount and to the payment and recovery of the amount payable by any owner or owners under such apportionment:

Provided that if the amount by which such actual cost exceeds such estimated cost is greater than one-fifth of such estimated cost, the excess amount so payable by such owners shall be limited to an amount equivalent to one-fifth of such estimated cost and the amount by which such actual cost exceeds the sum of such estimated cost and the said one-fifth of such estimated cost shall be payable by the local authority out of the local fund of such local authority.

(8) If the actual cost of executing an approved scheme is less than the estimated cost of such scheme, the amount determined as recoverable from any owner under the apportionment made under sub-section (2) shall be reduced in the proportion which such actual cost bears to such estimated cost, and, if more than such reduced amount has already been realised from such owner, he shall be entitled to a refund in the manner prescribed of the excess amount so recovered.

The Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945.

(Sections 7—10.)

Special provision for payment of cost of approved schemes when owners are unable to pay the entire cost.

7. (1) Notwithstanding anything in section 6, if in the case of any particular approved scheme the local authority concerned is of opinion that the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in respect of which the approved scheme has been prepared are unable to bear the entire amount of the actual cost of the scheme, the local authority may, with the previous sanction in writing of the Provincial Government, fix an amount not being less than fifty per centum of the estimated cost of the scheme as the portion of the actual cost of such scheme which shall be borne by such owners and such amount shall thereupon be apportioned between such owners in the manner provided in section 6 for the apportionment of the estimated cost and the provisions of sub-sections (2) to (6) of that section shall apply to the apportionment of such amount and to the payment and recovery of the amount payable by any owner or owners under such apportionment.

(2) The amount by which the actual cost of executing the approved scheme exceeds the amount fixed under sub-section (1) as payable by such owners shall be payable in equal shares by the Provincial Government out of the revenues of the Province and the local authority out of the local fund of such authority.

(3) If the actual cost of executing the approved scheme is less than the amount fixed under sub-section (1) as payable by the said owners the amount determined as recoverable from any such owner under the apportionment made in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be reduced in the proportion which such actual cost bears to the amount so fixed and if more than such reduced amount has already been realised from such owner he shall be entitled to a refund in the manner prescribed of the excess amount so recovered.

Provision as to amount remaining unrealised after 12 years.

8. (1) After the expiry of twelve years from the date of completion of any approved scheme, the local authority which executed such scheme shall submit a statement of its accounts in respect of such scheme showing the amount due and remaining unrealised from the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in which such scheme was executed, and the Provincial Government may, after such enquiry, if any, as it may deem necessary, pay to the local authority out of the revenues of the Province half the amount so remaining unrealised.

(2) All amounts shown in the statement submitted by the local authority under sub-section (1) as remaining unrealised after the expiry of the twelve years referred to in that sub-section shall be written off as irrecoverable and no action for their realisation shall thereafter be taken.

Payment into and out of the local fund of a local authority under this Act.

9. All charges and expenses incurred by a local authority in executing any approved scheme or in executing any repairs or works referred to in sub-section (4) of section 15, shall, notwithstanding anything in any law applicable to such local authority, be paid out of the local fund of such authority and all amounts realised under sections 6, 7 or section 15 from the owners or tenants of any land or other immovable property in a slum area and any contribution in respect of the cost of such scheme payable under this Act by the Provincial Government shall be paid into such local fund and the Provincial Government may by notification make such adaptations or modifications of the provisions of any Act applicable to such local authority as it may consider necessary for the purpose of enabling such payments into and out of such local fund to be lawfully made.

Demolition and removal of huts or other buildings and removal of materials thereof.

10. (1) If in executing any improvements in a slum area under an approved scheme any hut or other building or part thereof in such area is required to be pulled down or removed, the local authority shall, by notice in writing served in the prescribed manner, require every occupier of such hut or building or part thereof to vacate the hut, building or part thereof within a period not being less than one month to be specified in such notice.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, or in any contract, every occupier of a hut or other building or portion thereof on whom a notice issued under sub-section (1) is served, shall comply with such notice within the period specified therein.

The Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945.

(3) If the occupier of any hut or other building or part thereof fails to comply with the notice issued under sub-section (1) within the period specified therein, the local authority may apply to a Magistrate for the eviction of all persons who so fail to vacate such hut or other building or part thereof in pursuance of such notice and, thereupon, the Magistrate, after making such enquiries, if any, as he thinks fit, may evict such persons and may take such steps or cause such steps to be taken as he considers necessary for this purpose.

(4) The owner of any hut or other building or part thereof which is pulled down or caused to be removed in executing any improvements in a slum area under an approved scheme may take away the materials of the hut or building or part thereof so pulled down or caused to be removed; but if such owner fails or neglects to take them away, or if the owner is unknown, or if the title to the hut or such building is disputed, such materials shall be sold in auction and the proceeds of such sale shall, after deducting therefrom the cost of holding such sale, be held in deposit by the local authority until any person obtains an order from a competent Court for the payment of such amount to him.

Compensation for demolition or removal of huts or other infringements on rights in immovable property.

11. (1) When in executing any improvement in a slum area under an approved scheme,—

(a) a hut or other building or part thereof is pulled down or is caused to be removed; or the owner of such hut or other building or any other person who suffers any loss or damage shall, subject to rules made under this Act, be paid such compensation as the officer authorised in this behalf by the Provincial Government determines in the manner prescribed and the decision of the officer so authorised determining the amount of any compensation shall be final:

Provided that any compensation so determined in respect of the demolition or partial demolition of a hut or other building or part thereof shall in no case exceed the value of the hut or other building or part thereof less the value of the materials thereof.

(2) When the amount of any compensation has been determined under sub-section (1), if any dispute arises as to the apportionment of such compensation, or part thereof, the officer determining the amount of such compensation, shall, in the prescribed manner, refer such dispute to the Court competent to entertain a suit for the ejectment of a tenant of a hut or other building or part thereof in respect of which such compensation has been awarded and such Court shall decide how the said apportionment is to be made.

(3) In every reference under sub-section (2) the costs shall be at the discretion of the Court.

Acquisition of land for purposes of this Act.

12. (1) The Provincial Government may, at the request of a local authority authorised by the Provincial Government to execute an approved scheme in any slum area, for the purpose of enabling the said local authority to effect any improvements under such scheme, acquire any land in such area under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. I of 1894.

(2) On the payment by such local authority of the compensation awarded under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, and of any other charges incurred in acquiring such land, including the cost, if any, incurred by the Provincial Government in any proceeding subsequent to the acquisition concerning enhancement of the award for the land, such land shall vest in the local authority:

Provided that when under sub-section (1) of section 14, the task of ensuring the maintenance of improvements made in a slum area under an approved scheme has been directed by notification by the Provincial Government to be taken over by a local authority other than the local authority which executed such scheme, such land shall cease to vest in the local authority which executed such scheme and shall be deemed to be transferred to, and shall vest in, such other local authority with effect from the date of publication of such notification.

The Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945.

Explanation.—In this section "land" has the same meaning as in clause (a) of section 3 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. I of 1894.

13. (1) The provisions of sections 354 and 355 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, shall apply to streets, passages, bathing arrangements and privy accommodation constructed as improvements under an approved scheme in any slum area situated in Calcutta as if such slum area is a bustee in respect of which a standard plan has been approved under Chapter XXII of the said Act. Ben. Act III of 1923.

(2) The provisions of sections 341 and 342 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, shall apply to streets, passages, bathing arrangements and privy accommodation constructed as improvements under an approved scheme in any slum area outside Calcutta as if such slum area is a bustee in respect of which a standard plan has been approved under Chapter X of the said Act. Ben. Act XV of 1932.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-sections (1) and (2), every improvement made in a slum area in executing an approved scheme in such area shall belong to the owner of the land on which it is made.

Duty of local authority as to maintenance in good repair of improvements.

14. (1) It shall be the duty of the local authority which prepared and executed an approved scheme in a slum area, notwithstanding anything in any law applicable to such local authority, to ensure in accordance with the provisions of section 15 the maintenance in good repair of any improvements made in that area under that scheme:

Provided that the Provincial Government may at any time by notification direct that any other local authority, also having jurisdiction over the said area, shall take over the task of ensuring the said maintenance, and, in such case, it shall cease to be the duty of the local authority which prepared and executed the said scheme and shall become, notwithstanding anything in any law applicable to this other local authority, the duty of this other local authority to ensure according to the provisions of section 15 the said maintenance.

(2) In sections 15 and 16 the expression "local authority" means the local authority which has executed an approved scheme in the slum area concerned, and, when the task of ensuring the maintenance in good repair of the improvements made in such area under such scheme is directed under sub-section (1) to be taken over by another local authority, it means such other authority.

(2) The local authority may at any time cause a notice to be served in the prescribed manner upon any such owner requiring him so to maintain such streets, passages, drains, common bathing arrangements, common privy accommodation, means of lighting, means of water supply or other works.

(3) If the local authority is satisfied that any street, passage, bathing arrangements, privy accommodation, means of water supply or other works or part thereof have been damaged in any way by any tenant or tenants in the slum area, the local authority may, by notice in writing served in the prescribed manner, order such tenant or tenants to repair such street, passage, drain, bathing arrangements, privy accommodation, means of water supply or other works or part thereof.

(4) If any default is made in complying with any notice issued under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) the local authority may itself execute any repair or other work which it considers necessary in such slum area and which under the said notice any such owner, tenant or tenants were ordered to execute.

(5) All charges and expenses incurred by the local authority in executing any repair or other work referred to in sub-section (4) shall be recoverable as a public demand from the person or persons who defaulted in complying with the notice issued under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), as the case may be.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1500L.—3rd December, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

In several areas in the Province, and notably in Calcutta and in Howrah, there exist extensive slums which eventually will have to be demolished. Such demolition, however, will take a great deal of time and money, and the Provincial Government feels that in the interim period, something must be done to improve the conditions in which the slum dwellers live.

2. There already exist, in the Calcutta and the Bengal Municipal Acts, provisions relating to slum clearance and improvement, but it is feared that very little has been done on the strength of these provisions, and that slum areas, as a whole, are as bad and as numerous as ever. It is therefore considered necessary to enact legislation which will make it immediately possible to improve conditions pending the total clearance of the slums, and the present measure has been designed for the purpose. The new Act, stringent though some of its provisions may appear, is only an interim measure, intended to prevent deterioration in the health of the slum dwellers, and to check the spread of disease. It is appreciated that the Act's limited objective falls far short of the ultimate ideal of total slum clearance; but the Provincial Government considers that some immediate relief must be afforded to the slum dwellers, while longer term plans are in preparation. It is for this purpose of rendering such relief that the new Act has been enacted by the Governor of Bengal in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the said Proclamation, as an interim measure pending the consideration of more comprehensive measures.

3. Based on the principle that those who derive profit from any undertaking involving their fellow beings should conduct that undertaking in a manner not injurious to health—a principle which already finds expression in Factory Acts and similar legislation—the Act proposes that persons who derive rents from the land and from the buildings on the land notified as a slum area shall be held financially responsible for providing on their property those minimum facilities and conveniences of sanitation which the public health demands. At the same time, it is recognised that the neglect and indifference of owners for generations may have rendered slum areas so devoid of facilities that the present owners, no matter how willing could not afford to complete even the minimum improvements contemplated under the Act. Provision has accordingly been made in the Act for financial assistance by the Provincial Government and by the Local Authority in cases in which the owners' resources are inadequate to effect the desired improvements.

4. After the Act comes into force, it is designed to operate as follows to achieve the objects stated above:—

Either on its own motion, or on consideration of the recommendations of a Local Authority, the Provincial Government may declare an area to be a "Slum Area", such declaration being published in the Calcutta Gazette, and authorise the Local Authority to prepare a scheme and estimate. The scheme and estimate so prepared will then be published in the Calcutta Gazette and at the office of the Local Authority, and persons interested will be invited to express opinions. After consideration of the opinions the Local Authority may modify the Scheme if it thinks fit. The costs of the Scheme will then be apportioned as between the interests affected, the apportionment statement will be published in the Calcutta Gazette and dues shall be payable within two months. If they are not so paid, they will be recovered by processes of law, including the Certificate Procedure. The Local Authority will carry out the work.

By order of the Governor,

E. B. H. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PART IVC—Bills proposed to be enacted by the Governor of Bengal in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by Proclamation issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1493L.—30th November, 1945.—The following Bill, which the Governor of Bengal proposes to enact in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is published for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby and notice is hereby given that the said Bill will be taken into consideration on or after the 20th December, 1945, and that any objection or suggestion which may be received with respect thereto from any person by the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Department of Land and Land Revenue before the said date, will be considered by the Governor:—

THE BENGAL EXCISE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1945.

A

further to amend the Bengal Excise Act, 1909.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act V of 1909.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature;

The Bengal Excise (Amendment) Bill, 1945.

(Clauses 1, 2.)

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Excise (Amendment) Act, 1945.

Amendment of section 8 of Bengal Act V of 1909.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 8 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, after the words "Commissioner of a Division" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"or by any officer exercising the powers of an appellate authority under any rule made under section 85, clause (c)".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Excise Commissioner exercises appellate and revisional powers under the various Acts, Statutory Rules and Orders administered by the Excise Department. The growing number of appeals filed before the Excise Commissioner in accordance with those provisions has thrown a heavy burden on his time and is interfering with his other important functions in the administration of the Excise Department. In order to afford him relief it is proposed to authorise the Deputy Commissioner of Excise, Distilleries and Warehouses, who is attached to the office of the Excise Commissioner, to dispose of such of the appeals as the Excise Commissioner may, in his discretion, transfer to him under a rule made in that behalf under clause (c) of sub-section (2) of section 85 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909. But an order of the Deputy Commissioner of Excise (Distilleries and Warehouses) passed in appeal can hardly be treated as an order passed in appeal by the Excise Commissioner and be revised under sub-section (3) of section 8 of the said Act. The proposed amendment is intended to provide for the revision of such orders of the Deputy Commissioner of Excise in the same way as orders passed in appeal by the Excise Commissioner are revised under the said sub-section (3).

By order of the Governor,
E. B. H. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 10th October 1945.

Second Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal for 1945-46.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under cotton in Bengal has represented some 0·3 per cent. and that in the Tripura State some 0·1 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India).

There are two varieties of crops, early and late. The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill-tracts and the Tripura State and to a small extent in other districts. The late crop is occasionally grown on very small areas in Bankura, Midnapore and Mymensingh districts.

Character of the season.—Sowings generally commenced in normal times under favourable weather conditions. Since the issue of the first forecast in August last, the weather has not been so helpful to the growth of the crop in the Tripura State; but in the Bengal districts it has been quite favourable and the prospects are satisfactory.

The area sown.—The area sown this year with the early variety is reported to be 117,343 acres (revised), as against 107,128 acres and 107,028 acres, respectively, shown in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year. No area has so far been cultivated with the late variety this year. The area sown with this variety was 60 acres in Mymensingh district last year, as shown in the final forecast of 1944-45.

PART (E).

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. Employees engaged in effecting delivery of the output should also be included, but persons employed in any retail sales organization maintained by the factory should be excluded. If the factory carries on any merchanting trade (i.e., sale of goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received), persons engaged in that part of the business should also be excluded.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(ii) Entries in column (2) against each of the side-headings 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls' under "Workers" should be worked out in the manner described in paragraph (b) (i), but based on the attendances of 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls' respectively.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the cost.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (I) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (I) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

CAPITAL STRUCTURE AS ON 30TH JUNE 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 30th June 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 30TH JUNE 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by badli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the cost.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

Instructions for filling up this Part

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on any product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of that product and by-product made in the year of return for sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV 1 of the table.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on any product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of that product and by-product made in the year of return for sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV 1 of the table.

(3) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV 2):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (B).

CAPITAL STRUCTURE AS ON 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the cost.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VII):—

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IX):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item VIII in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item VIII in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December [illegible] accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. (b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the cost.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). (d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side-headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item V):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item IV in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item IV in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item V):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item IV in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item IV in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table item (IV):—

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

CAPITAL STRUCTURE AS ON 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VIII):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item VII in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item VII in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. (c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value.—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on any product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of that product and by-product made in the year of return for sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV 1 of the table.

(3) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV 2):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4), in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Section II.—Products and by-products made in the year of return for sale and work done during the year.

Instructions for filling up this section.

(a) Quantity of products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (3) and (4) of the table below should be stated the quantity of each product and by-product specified in column (1) and made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products.

(b) Products and by-products sold and delivered during the year.—In column (5) of the table below should be stated the quantity of each products and by-products sold and delivered during the year of return, and in column (6) should be stated the ex-factory net selling value whether actually realised or not, of that quantity. The weight of packing materials should not be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products sold and delivered during the year. The ex-factory net selling value should include the cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other kinds of returnable packing). The quantity sold and delivered during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value.—(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product sold and delivered during the year of return, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less—

(i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing, and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and

(ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (c) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be entered in column (6). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of this column that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the end of the table (item IV):—

(i) names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (c) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (6) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Fents.—Fents of any particular category of woven goods should not be included under the category of woven goods to which they belong. Particulars relating to fents of all kinds should be lumped and entered against item "I.F.1.—Fents, all kinds" in the table below.

(e) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. F. Other products" of the table.

(f) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(g) Work done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table).—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(h) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) of the table below was not made by the factory or was not sold and delivered during the year of return, the entry against it should be "nil" in columns (3) and (4) or in columns (5) and (6), as the case may be.

Spaces in these columns should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table) the entry against this item in column (6) should be "nil". The space against this item also in column (6) should not be left blank.

(i) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted. If more than one unit has been specified against any product or by-product, figures should be furnished in terms of each of the units specified.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item V):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Quantity of jute yarn made in the year whether for sale or for use in the factory . . . . . Tons.....

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (c) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(d) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. PART (B).

CAPITAL STRUCTURE AS ON 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS, AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

PART (E).

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE, AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) Purchase value.—(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VIII):—

(i) names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item VII in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item VII in the table), the entry against this item should be "nil". The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Total quantity made in the year.—Under this heading in column (3) of the table below should be stated the total quantity of each product and by-product made in the year, irrespective of whether any portion of that quantity was sold, added to stock without further processing or was used in the factory for the manufacture of other articles.

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (4) and (5) of table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value.—(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on any product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of that product and by-product made in the year of return for sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV 1 of the table.

(3) If deductions specified in paragraph (c) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (5). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the head of column (5) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV 2):—

(i) names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (c) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (5) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All others (value only)" item 316 of the table.

(e) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(f) Work done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table).—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(g) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) to (5) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table) the entry against this item in column (5) should be "nil". The space against this item also in column (5) should not be left blank.

(h) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

PART (E).

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (I) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (I) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Total quantity made in the year.—Under this heading in column (3) of the table should be stated the total quantity of each product and by-product in the year, irrespective of whether any portion of that quantity was sold, added to stock without further processing or was used in the factory for the production of more finished articles. Ingots found to be defective and sent back to the furnace without undergoing any treatment should be excluded.

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (4) and (5) of the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value.—(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payment to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (c) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (5). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (5) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (c) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (5) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" item 48(h) under item "I.—Products" of the table.

(e) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(f) Work done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table).—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(g) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) to (5) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table) the entry against this item in column (5) should be "nil". The space against this item also in column (5) should not be left blank.

(h) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

PART (E).

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Total quantity made in the year.—Under this heading in column (3) of the table below should be stated the total quantity of each product and by-product in the year, irrespective of whether any portion of that quantity was sold, added to stock without further processing or was used in the factory for the production of more finished articles. The same goods should not be entered more than once under a single item specified in column (1) of the table; e.g., if steel blooms are re-rolled into steel billets in the factory only the output in the form of steel billets should be taken into account. Ingots found to be defective and sent back to the furnace without undergoing any treatment should be excluded.

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (4) and (5) of the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value.—(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payment to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on any product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV 1 of the table.

(3) If deductions specified in paragraph (c) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figures of value entered in column (5). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (5) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV 2):—

(i) names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (7) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (5) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included under item "62—Other products (exclusive of iron and steel products), by-products and waste products" in the table below.

(e) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(f) Work done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table).—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(g) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) to (5) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table) the entry against this item in column (5) should be "nil". The space against this item also in column (5) should not be blank.

(h) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (B).

CAPITAL STRUCTURE AS ON 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 : If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table item (IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each item and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VII):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item VI in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out tb them (item VI in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PART (F).

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II(1)(i) to II(1)(iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lump sum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

PART (C).

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES, DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the factory, loans and bills of exchange payable by the factory.

in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made in respect of items specified under clauses (d) to (j) of sub-section (2) of section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. The remuneration to a proprietor should be included only if he is actively engaged in the business of the factory and then only to the extent to which it is paid in lieu of salary or wages. His share of the profits of the business should not be included.

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraphh (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Factories Act, 1934.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

FUEL, ELECTRICITY, COAL GAS, LUBRICATING MATERIALS AND WATER PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each item effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of the stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include fuel, electricity, etc., acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

(d) If any quantity of any article specified in this table was sold in the same condition as bought, particulars relating to it should be excluded from the table.

PART (E).

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—Against item 1 of Table I should be stated the ex-factory net selling value of all products (including products made against specific orders) and of all by-products and waste products made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. Similarly, in Table II should be stated the quantity (including the quantity made against specific orders) and ex-factory net selling value of each product specified in that table made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other returnable packing). Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustments. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value.—For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other returnable packing, and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(c) Work in progress at the end and at the beginning of the year (items 4 and 6 of Table I).—For the purpose of determining the total output attributable to the year covered by this return, account must be taken of the value of work in progress at the end and at the beginning of that year. In both cases the value should be estimated on the basis of materials or parts used or worked up in the construction of plant and machinery, cost of labour expended on them, together with due allowance for general charges and profits.

(d) While Table I should cover all output of the factory, building or structural construction work undertaken outside the factory premises should be excluded from the value figures furnished in that table.

(e) Electricity generated and coal gas produced and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against item 1 in Table I.

(f) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received should be excluded from the tables.

(g) If no income accrues to the factory under any of the heads listed in Table I, the entry against that head should be "nil". Space against any head of that table should not be left blank. Similarly, if a product listed in column (1) of Table II was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Space in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product listed in column (1) of Table II.

NOTIFICATION.

Hooghly.—No. L.S.-G.1073/45/2A.—22nd December 1945.—In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 58 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to appoint Babu Jnanendra Nath Kundu to be a Commissioner of the Bansberia Municipality in the district of Hooghly, in place of Kumar Munindra Deb Rai Mahasai, deceased.

By order of the Governor,
R. A. STRACEY, Secy.

RESOLUTION—No. L.S.-G.345/45/1M.

Calcutta, the 22nd December 1945.

The affairs of the Nawabganj Municipality in the district of Malda have been causing anxiety to Government for some years now. Because of bad collection of taxes and unsatisfactory financial and general administration of the municipality, the supersession of the Commissioners of the municipality was first urged by the District Magistrate in 1941. As, however, a new board was about to be constituted, the question of supersession was not pursued at that stage in order to give the new Commissioners an opportunity to improve the administration of the municipality; and it was decided that the work of the new board should be watched for some time.

2. The present body of Commissioners have now served very nearly their full term of office, the next general election being due in March 1946; but there has been little or no improvement in the general administration, the financial condition of the municipallty, or in the condition of the town. In 1941, the incidence of taxation per head of population was only Rs. 0-13-11 as compared with the provincial average of Rs. 3-7-11 and in 1943 the incidence of taxation was Rs. 1-4-0 as against the provincial average of Rs. 3-7-0. Inspite of repeated persuasion by local officers to increase the rates, the Commissioners of the municipality, at a meeting held on 12th January 1944, resolved not to change the prevailing rates although the costs of administration have greatly increased in recent years.

3. As to the collection of rates, the statement given below shows a chronic incompetency and unwillingness on the part of the Commissioners to realise even these lightly imposed taxes:

Year.	Demand.			Collection.			Total. Remissions.	Outstanding balances.
	Arrear.	Current.	Total.	Arrear.	Current.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1938-39	13,047	16,324	30,271	4,571	7,239	11,810	85	18,376
1939-40	18,376	15,667	34,043	5,710	7,701	13,411	3,246	17,386
1940-41	17,386	15,006	32,392	6,690	7,095	13,785	606	18,001
1941-42	18,001	16,298	34,299	6,137	7,780	13,917	5,067	15,315
1942-43	15,315	15,386	30,701	6,183	6,127	12,310	188	18,203
1943-44	14,486	11,446	25,932	4,519	4,799	9,318	5,963	10,651
1944-45	10,649	11,631	22,280	5,907	6,628	12,535	3,343	6,402

In these years the percentage of total collection against total demand was 39 per cent., 36·4 per cent., 42·6 per cent., 40·6 per cent., 35·9 per cent. and 56 per cent. against the provincial average of 63·7 per cent. (1938-42). There has been considerable improvement in the year 1944-45 but in consideration of the low rates, it is not regarded to be satisfactory. It will appear from the above table that the outstanding balances have been kept at a low figure by large remissions granted in alternate years between 1938 and 1944. The average amount of remissions granted yearly in the period under review is Rs. 2,637 which is about 8 per cent. of the average total demands in these years as against the provincial average of 6 per cent. (1938-42). Inspite of such large remissions, the outstanding balances are allowed regularly to remain at the level of 50 per cent. of total demand. The Commissioners themselves have been the most persistent defaulters. In 1944, the Divisional Commissioner found that as many as five of them were in arrears of many years' dues and one of them was not assessed at all. The number of distress warrants issued in any year have been insignificant. The conclusion is irresistible that the Commissioners have been irresponsible, incompetent and unwilling to perform the primary and statutory duty of realising the municipal dues.

4. Successive inspection notes of District Magistrates show that the condition of the town is very unsatisfactory. The one main road in the town is in a dangerous condition; there is but one municipal well which is not used by the people; and there is no street lighting worth the name. The posts of the Sanitary Inspector was for a long time filled by an incompetent person. His post remained vacant for considerable period and his successor left because of an inadequate salary. Dysentery, cholera and other bowel diseases are consequently prevalent and the death rate which is shown in the table below is causing anxiety.

Year.	No.
1943-44. ..	455
1944-45. ..	277
1945-46 (seven months)..	267

The year 1943-44 was one of famine; and epidemics prevailed throughout Bengal in the year 1944-45; but it is alarming to note that, this year, although there has been no outbreak of epidemics in the neighbourhood of this town, the total number of deaths for seven months is almost equal to that in the year before. Though the Municipal Commissioners cannot be held responsible for circumstances beyond their control, it is evident that the lack of a good water supply is always a contributory cause of a high death rate; and for this lack, the Commissioners must be held to be responsible.

5. After very careful consideration of the whole matter, Government is of opinion that any appreciable improvement of the affairs of the Nawabganj Municipality cannot be expected under the administration of the existing Commissioners. Government has accordingly come to the conclusion that the present body of Commissioners of the Nawabganj Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform, and have persistently made default in the performance of duties imposed on them by or under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. In exercise of the power conferred by section 552 of the said Act, Government is accordingly pleased to declare the Commissioners of the Nawabganj Municipality to be incompetent and in default and to direct that a fresh general election shall be held and fresh appointments shall be made immediately of persons to be Commissioners.

6. Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.
